Biography

Brett King: 'King of Disruptors', 'Godfather of FinTech'

Brett King is a world-renowned futurist and speaker, an International Bestselling Author, and a media personality who covers the future of business, technology, and society. President Xi Jinping cited his book Augmented on the topic of Artificial Intelligence and he was voted Top Foreign Author for 2019 in Russia. He has spoken in over 50 countries, at TED conferences, given opening keynotes for Wired, Techsauce, Singularity University, Web Summit, The Economist, IBM's World of Watson, CES, SIBOS and many more. He has appeared as a commentator on CNN, CNBC, BBC, ABC, Fox, and Bloomberg. He previously advised the Obama administration on Fintech policy and advises regulators and bank boards around the world on technology transformation.

King hosts the world's first and #1 ranked radio show on FinTech called "Breaking Banks" (180 countries, 10m+ downloads) and his latest venture is "The Futurists", a podcast featuring those creating the future. He is the Founder of Moven, the world's first mobile, downloadable bank account. Moven was the first app-based, neo-bank or challenger bank in history that allowed an in-app application process for a debit card, the first banking app to use the homescreen for financial health indicators, the first real-time receipts for transactions, and the first bank to use contactless cards in the US) and now a Banking-as-a-Service platform for mobile banking and financial wellness available for banks and fintechs globally.

Named "King of the Disruptors" (Banking Exchange magazine) and the "Godfather of Fintech" (The Australian newspaper), King is a Fintech Hall of Famer (CB Insights) who was voted American Banker's Innovator of the Year, voted the world's #1 Financial Services Influencer by The Financial Brand and was nominated by Bank Innovation as one of the top 10 "coolest brands in banking". He was shortlisted for the 2015 Advance Global Australian of the Year Award for being one of the most influential Australians living offshore. His books have been released in over a dozen languages and he has achieved bestseller status in 20 countries. His fifth book Augmented: Life in the Smart Lane was an international bestseller, top 10 in North America and China, and the book remained in the top 10 on Amazon for 2 years. Bank 4.0, which followed, has already spent 3 years on the Amazon bestsellers list for Banking books. His latest book for the post-Coronavirus world is entitled The Rise of Technosocialism and is out now.

Testimonials

> Brett recently spoke for us at NetFinance 2014 in Miami. Our high level of attendees are not that easy to impress but given the huge round of applause after the presentation, the follow-up questions & the fact that out of 80 speakers Brett’s presentation had the highest rating, I would highly recommend him as a speaker at any other show.

Brett was an absolutely fantastic closing keynote for our 2018 Summit. It was such an engaging presentation; he is so natural on stage, very conversational, answered all the audience questions (who just loved him), and was not rushed to leave—he really gave us his time and finished our event on a high. Feedback from our delegates has been excellent. We were so impressed and would highly recommend Brett. Cheers.

Brett did his usual outstanding job. He held the audience's attention and made us all think about the future and our adaptability. He received many questions from the audience. He even stayed through lunch and signed books while chatting with attendees. All great! Thank you. You are the star!
